125 TAKEN FROM TRAIN.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 25.—A hundred and twenty-five American men, women and children were taken from a train between Vera Cruz and Mexico City, according to official state department advices this afternoon. They were left on the ground there despite their appeal to be allowed to continue to Vera Cruz. They were not arrested. The state department's original announcement said merely that they had been detained.

Vera Cruz, April 25.—Every interior city of Mexico is holding American prisoners as hostages. With the exception of Charge O'Shaughnessy, every member of the diplomatic corps arriving here from Mexico City last night privately expressed the opinion that only the early arrival of troops in the capital and the overthrow of Huerta will save the marooned Americans. At almost every town between Vera Cruz and Mexico City Americans are being held prisoners.

The passing of the O'Shaughnessy train from the Capital was most dramatic. The charge, with his wife and son and members of the embassy staff, left Mexico City at midnight Thursday. Mobs were then in front of the embassy.

At the station Americans besieged the train, pleading that they be permitted to accompany the fleeing party. Colonel Ramon Carona, assigned by Huerta to escort O'Shaughnessy from the city flatly refused.

Before the departure, Huerta sent 200 soldiers to the embassy to seize the 200 rifles and 2 machine guns which were stored there for the defense of the American citizens. The American volunteer guards were prepared to defend their arms, but on the advice of O'Shaughnessy they

Washington, April 25.—Arrest of several Americans before Charge O'Shaughnessy left Mexico City was reported in state dispatches from Consul Canada today. The report said that J. Starr Hunt and family, with several other Americans were taken from the train at Mexico City before it started.

The O'Shaughnessy party reported to Consul Canada that a perfect reign of terror prevailed in Mexico City. They confirmed the report that the George Washington statue in Mexico City had been torn down by an unruly mob.

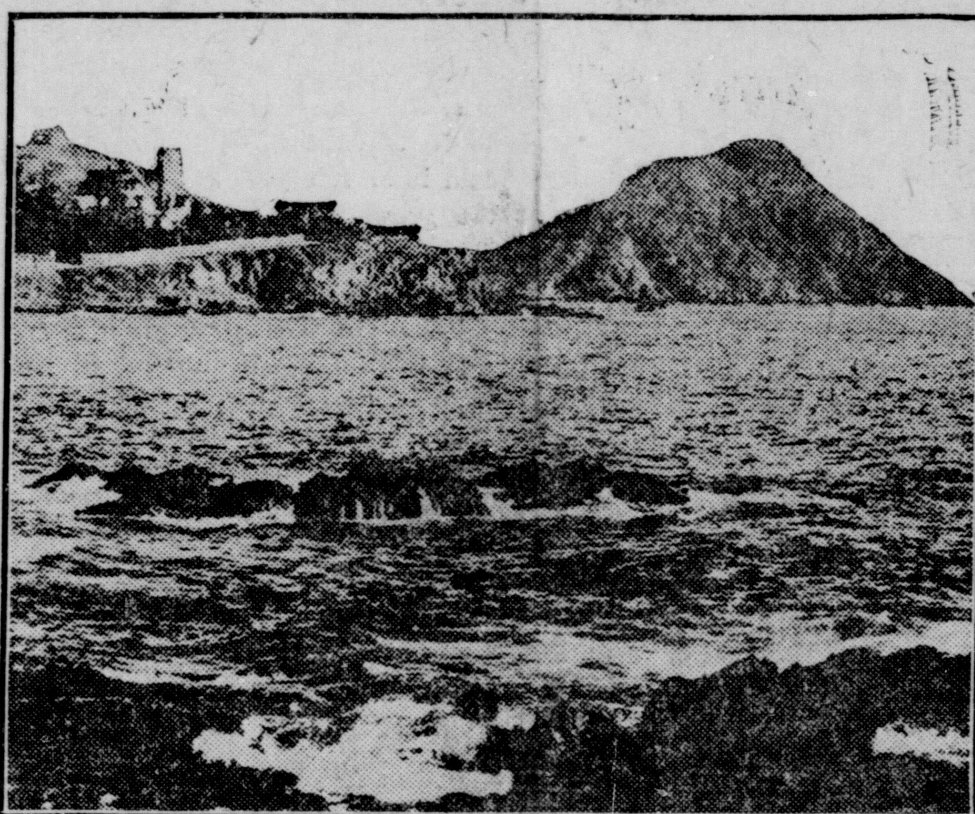

Secretary of State Bryan admitted today he had received dispatches from Consul Canada at Vera Cruz, reporting the arrest of twenty foreigners in Mexico—19 Americans and one Briton. He said Canada had transmitted a rumor that these "may be executed." Bryan denied knowledge of a dispatch reporting the arrest in Mexico City, before Charge O'Shaughnessy's train departed, of J. Starr Hunt and family of another American, Burton Wilson at Lavilla, a suburb of the capital, although in another office it was stated such information had been received.

Bryan said that the twenty persons, all railroad employees, were arrested on a train running from Terra Blanca on the Tehuantepec line, Orizaba, the principal city on the Mexican railway line between Mexico City and Vera Cruz. The prisoners were taken to Orizaba. They were enroute to board refugee ships at Vera Cruz.

Bryan notified Ambassador Spring-Rice of the reported arrest of the British subject. The Brazilian gov-

INSIST ON A SET POLICY

Congressional Leaders Believe Secrecy of Administration Should End.

SILENCE CAUSES RUMORS

Tenseness in Congress Today Which May Break Into Open Criticism of Wilson and Bryan.

BY JOHN E. NEVIN

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, April 25.—The diplomatic tangle over Mexico has created a situation of unrest here in Washington.

Congressional leaders are vainly importuning the White House for an announcement of a definite policy. No word comes from the president. He and his advisers may have a decided plan but all knowledge of it is withheld from the public. The inevitable result of a campaign of silence has been the circulation of rumors which are accepted as truth because they are not denied. The result was a tenseness today in congress which may break into a storm of open criticism of Secretary Bryan and the president at any moment. Congressional leaders generally believe that the president and Bryan have been in negotiations with Carranza. They say they are assured that the president sent word to Pancho Villa that with Vera Cruz in the hands of the United States forces there was now no reason why the constitutionalist forces now at Tampico should not push directly southward without delay and take Mexico City. These congressional chieftains insist the reports that the Constitutionalists have renewed their assault on Tampico confirms this belief.

The White House and state department refuse to discuss the matter.

But Secretary Bryan and Secretary Daniels have issued several direct

BOOSTER CROWD WILL VISIT HERE

Over Hundred Representatives of Cincinnati Manufacturers and Wholesalers Coming May 14.

TO RIDE ON SPECIAL TRAIN

Accompanied by Weber's Famous Band, Visitors Will Stop Off Here For an Hour For Program.

Representatives of more than a hundred wholesalers and manufacturers of Cincinnati will visit Rushville from eight thirty to nine thirty o'clock the morning of Thursday, May 14 while on a booster trip in this part of Indiana.

Accompanying the boosters will be John Weber's famous band, which will give concerts in each town and city visited. Arrangements will be made by the Chamber of Commerce here for a meeting on the public square the morning the Cincinnati visitors are here.

Thomas Quinlan, assistant manager of the publicity and convention department of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, was here last night. He arranged for the details of the trip with L. B. Smelser, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Quinlan asked that the commercial body here help advertise the coming of the Cincinnati men as much as possible. The Chamber of Commerce will have a reception committee meet them and conduct the entire procession, led by the band, down to the public square, where, for the hour allotted, various men, including two or three from here, will give five-minute speeches. Valuable souvenirs will be given away at the meeting.

The purpose of the trip, of course, is to boost the wholesale and manufacturing interests of Cincinnati. The movement is fathered by the wholesale and manufacturing bureau of

HEARS ROUSING SPEECHS AND NOMINATES COUNTY TICKET TODAY

Republican Convention Meets at Coliseum This Afternoon and Gets Down to Business.

TALKS BEFORE NOMINATIONS

A. L. Gary, Presiding as Permanent Chairman, Urges Reunion of Progressives and Republicans.

CHAIRMAN LYNCH SPEAKS

Archibald Hall of Indianapolis Asails Democratic Tariff Law and Other Legislation.

The Republicans of Rush county met in convention this afternoon in the coliseum and nominated their county ticket. The gathering was an enthusiastic one and the convention was one of the largest ever held.

The delegates met this morning and named their members to two committees, rules and order and resolutions. The first order of business at the convention proper was the hearing of the reports of the committees.

The rules and order committee recommended A. L. Gary for permanent chairman and R. H. Hill of Carthage for secretary. The report of the committee was adopted and Mr. Gary, in a ten minute speech, criticized the Democratic national and state administration and stated that he hoped to see the Republicans back in power.

"President Wilson as far as school books are concerned," said Mr. Gary, "was well fitted for the place, but his theories have failed to give us a stable government and his theories will not apply to actual application. This is a one-man government today under Wilson."

The chairman also hit at Wilson's Mexican policy and applied the tariff law to Rush county, showing that the farmers here have been damaged.

Mr. Gary also took up the question of the Progressive party. He stated that the two differed but little in principle and that he could see no reason why they could not be reunited.

"We had a family fight at Chicago in 1912 but there is no need of keeping it at it," said Mr. Gary, in urging that the two parties "get together."

The Rev. A. D. Batchelor pronounced the invocation. Following the remarks of Mr. Gary, Patrick J. Lynch, of Newcastle, was introduced to the convention. The work of nominating was delayed to allow Mr. Lynch to speak.

Great applause greeted Mr. Lynch when he said that no matter where the American flag goes in the present Mexican Crisis, we, the American people, will back up President Wilson, regardless of whether we agree with his policies or not.

Mr. Lynch confined his remarks to the tariff question and stated that the Republican party in the Sixth District would fight Finly Gray for his seat in Congress along the issues of the tariff.

"With your support, I, for one will do all I can to retire him to private life," said Mr. Lynch.

"The signs of the times point to a great Republican victory next fall as a rebuke to the Democratic party for its wonderful mistake and imposition in giving us that free trade tariff bill," said Lynch.

Archibald Hall, a well known iron manufacturer of Indianapolis, followed Mr. Lynch. Mr. Hall paid tribute to James E. Watson and stated that it was an honor to be called to his city to make an address, when Mr. Watson could have done it so much better. Mr. Hall said that the Republicans of Rush county showed the spirit and enthusiasm that will return them winners next fall.

Mr. Hall made an "old time" Republican speech. He gave statistics to show how Indiana compared with other states of the nation in all branches of industry, social and educational institutions under Republican rule.

"A harmonious people is a permanently prosperous people" said Mr. Hall, "and the working man is the best friend of the merchant, as is the farmer."

Mr. Hall assailed the Underwood tariff law. "Every tariff law enacted," said he, "that gave us prosperity was passed by the Republican party. Never in the history of Indi-

How Many Soaps Can You Name Offhand?

This is not a new story, but it is worth repeating.

A friend went to a large soap manufacturer and said to him: "See here, you are spending a fortune in advertising. Why do you waste your money?"

"How many soaps can you name?" asked the soap manufacturer. The friend studied and named six—all advertised brands.

"That's the answer," replied the soap manufacturer. Out of the hundreds of soaps made, you can name only six, and mine heads the list.

"I CAN'T AFFORD NOT TO ADVERTISE."

That soap manufacturer was a large user of space in the daily newspapers. He died the other day leaving an immense fortune and a name known from one end of the country to the other.

PREPARING FOR BIG APPLE SHOW

Success Depends on Growers and They are Urged to be Liberal With Sprays.

DATE IS NOVEMBER 18 TO 24

Indiana Exhibit Considered Largest East of Rocky Mountains—Best are Grown Here

The Indiana apple show commission is making plans for the next apple show, which will be held in Tomlinson hall at Indianapolis November 18 to 24, 1914. The show will be held later this year in order to give the growers a chance to get their crops harvested and the fall work cleaned up before the show starts.

"The success of a show of this kind depends more upon the growers than it does on the commission," says Benjamin W. Douglass, in a letter he has sent to the growers. "If the growers do not bring their fruit the show is sure to be a failure from every standpoint. Back of this, of course, is the work that must be done by the grower before he has any presentable fruit to bring."

"That is one reason why I am writing to you now. I want you to be sure to spray early. Do not neglect a single spraying. If you have never sprayed before be sure to do it this spring. The first prize of delicious apples last year came from an orchard that had never before been sprayed."

"Our apple show is the largest of its kind east of the Rocky mountains. Let us see if we can not make it as large as any west of the mountains."

"When the general public speaks or thinks of apples it instinctively refers to the west," according to a booklet issued by the apple show commission. "The popular idea has been that all good apples come from across the Rocky mountains. The only place that this is true is on the western side of the mountains."

"The really good apples are grown in the east and in no part of the east do they grow better than we do right here at home in Indiana."

"According to figures published by the Fruit and Produce Distributor, an Oregon periodical, Indiana last year grew nearly two hundred thousand more barrels of apples than did the state of Oregon."

"The only way that the apple growers can educate the public to the fact that Indiana apples are better than western apples is to bring that great public face to face with the facts."

H. E. Barnard of Indianapolis is president of the commission; R. A. Simpson of Vincennes, is vice president; Walter Vonnegut of Culver is secretary; D. B. Johnson of Mooresville, is treasurer, and Benjamin W. Douglass of Trevas is manager.

The Living Present.

He that hath so many causes of joy and so great is very much in love with sorrow and peevishness who loses all these pleasures and chooses to sit down upon his little handful of thorns. En joy the blessings of this day if God sends them, and the evils of it bear patiently and sweetly, for this day only is ours. We are dead to yesterday and we are not yet born to the morrow. But if we look abroad and bring into one day's thoughts the evil of many, certain and uncertain, what will be and what will never be, our load will be as intolerable as it is unreasonable.—Jeremy Taylor.

HOME FRUIT GARDEN

(Special to the Daily Republican) Washington, April 25.—One of the most important features of a suburban hom, from the standpoint of health, is a fruit garden maintained for the purpose of supplying the family with fruits. It is amazing that even those who have suitable situations and facilities for raising fruits, and who cannot purchase them because of remoteness from markets, have not established home fruit gardens, says the Department of Agriculture.

The inhabitants of this country are notably a fruit-loving and fruit-eating people. Notwithstanding this, however, fruit culture has grown to be classed among specialties, and few persons who consume fruit are actual growers. The possibilities in fruit culture upon restricted areas have been very generally overlooked with the result that many persons who own a suburban home, or even a farm, now look upon fruit as a luxury. A great deal of the land which is now practically wasted and entirely unremunerative can be made to produce fruits in sufficient quantity to give them a regular place upon a family bill of fare, and at the same time, add greatly to the attractiveness of the table and healthfulness of the diet.

With the growth of commercial fruit interests of the United States the home fruit garden has been overshadowed by the orchard. While the home garden and orchard are essential to the good of the community, they bear different relations to the country as a whole. The home garden is always a forerunner of commercial development, and even in those localities where climate and soil conditions are adverse to conducting such industries on an extensive scale, the home fruit garden of the enthusiastic amateur is certain to be found.

The home production of fruit stimulates an interest and love for natural objects, which can only be acquired by that familiarity with them which comes through their culture. The cultivation of fruits teaches discrimination. If every purchaser was a good judge of the different kinds of fruits, the demand for fruits of high quality, to produce which is the ambition of every amateur as well as every professional fruit grower, would become a reality. The encouragement of the cultivation of fine fruits in the home garden will do much toward teaching buyers to discriminate between the good and the inferior varieties of fruit.

The maintenance of a fruit garden brings pleasure and healthful employment, and as one's interest in growing plants increases, this employment instead of proving a hardship, will become a great source of pleasure. The possession of a tree which one has planted and reared to fruit production carries an added interest in its product as well as in the operation by which it was secured.

Most persons engaged in the cultivation of home fruit gardens will have as their chief aim the production of fruit for the family table, and the pleasure it affords. Fruit growing should claim the attention of the producer from early spring to late autumn.

In order to secure satisfactory results in a limited area devoted to fruit culture one must know the methods of pruning, training, and culture best suited to the space at command. In proportion to size, dwarf trees are more fruitful than standards; they come into bearing sooner and are therefore of special value for use in fruit gardens.

At planting time all broken or decayed roots should be cut away, leaving only smooth-cut surfaces and healthy wood to come in contact with the soil. If a large part of the root area of the plant has been lost in transplanting, the top should be cut back in proportion to the roots remaining. By so doing the demand made by the top when the plant starts into growth can be met by the root.

statements praising Carranza Villa and their men, and insisting that there is no chance that they will join hands with Huerta.

A very plain, studied effort is manifest everywhere in administration circles to assure the Constitutionists against any fear that this nation has any permanent designs on Mexican territory.

Meanwhile the reports continue to reach this city from the border that the rank and file of the Constitutionists are chafing over the situation.

At Torreon many of Villa's crack men are reported to have abandoned his cause and to be enroute south to join the Federals under the terms of the general amnesty proclamation issued by Huerta and under which Zapata and his band of irregulars have already espoused the Federal cause.

Huerta has apparently outguessed the United States on one proposition. The president and all of his advisers were confident that his handing of passports to O'Shaughnessy would be followed by a formal declaration of war. This would then have permitted the state to have accepted the deft and rushed its troops into the interior from Vera Cruz.

Huerta, instead, has contended himself with issuing proclamations denouncing the United States; calling on all classes of Mexicans to rally to the support of the government, but not issuing the document that would mean a formal war. As a result the administration has been unable to take any steps toward actual reprisals other than the landing of its men at Vera Cruz.

President Wilson sent Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to confer with the party leaders in congress regarding a war tax measure. McAdoo urged them to introduce a revenue measure so that it could receive consideration and not have to be rushed through as an emergency act.

"Declare war and we will do so at once," was the reply made to the treasury head. "We will uphold the president to the last ditch, but we cannot present any excuse to the people of the country for a war tax law unless there is an actual war."

Meanwhile officialdom is watching closely for unforeseen complications. The situation of all Americans in Mexico is the real danger point. The massacre of Americans at this time will be followed by immediate action by the president. That is admitted by the men closest to the administration.

Secretary of War Garrison declaration that there "will be no invasion under present circumstances" means just that. But the forces are being shaped for service.

All that remains to be done so far as the army is concerned is for the president to say the word. But every hour it becomes more certain he will not say that word until events force his hand.

Reports from foreign capitals that the various powers are uneasy over our handling of the entire situation are not credited at the White House. The president believes that the nations with the exception of Spain—will permit the United States a free hand in Mexico in every way.

The navy department was still without details today of the fighting at Tampico. All foreign refugees have been taken from Tampico and vicinity and are now on the warships and two foreign oil tank steamers.

Huerta's Motives

Whatever Huerta's motives may be or have been for inviting the steps which the United States has already taken may probably be known, but it is a safe venture that he was thinking of his own welfare and prestige in Mexico. On the other hand, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, believes his action may be due to one or more reasons, sheer stubbornness may be the reason. Huerta may be actuated by a vague hope that a display of force by the United States will restore Mexican solidarity, missing for three years. Or Huerta may feel his days are numbered and it will be salve to his pride that his downfall is due to a mighty nation instead of to a bandit chieftain turned general. He may even guess, with a shrewdness he has shown on rare occasions neither Carranza nor Villa will be permitted to establish himself in power and wreak vengeance on the supporters of the provisional government. Or he may be actuated by a mixture of all these motives.

We have waited and watched bad matters grow constantly worse. Prospect of settlement of the tangle by the Mexicans themselves is gloomy. When the president announced that formal recognition would be withheld from any government that did not meet our moral approval, he set a standard too high for any leader now conspicuous in the affairs of that troubled country. It may become necessary for us to take charge and establish a virtual protectorate until order is restored and safety secured. If Congress shall authorize such steps on the ground that we must abate a nuisance at our door, it should at the same time make clear to all the world, as we did in the case of Cuba, that our motives are not ulterior. A crisis in the Mexican situation has been reached which compels every loyal citizen to face the future and stand back of Pres. Wilson and Congress in whatever course they may deem best for this country and for civilization, without regard to differences of opinion as to what policy should have been adopted a year ago. Let us hope that there may be no war. But if it must be war, it will be a vigorous and decisive one, without any blot of dishonor on a flag that has symbolized justice and liberty wherever it has floated.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

(Muncie Press.)

"No one is holding it against these republicans that they emerge but slowly from standpatism. Some minds are so constituted that they accept new ideas with difficulty and some cling tenacity to the old because it is old." So chirps the Indianapolis Star in an editorial calculated to comment on the republican state convention at Indianapolis.

Any party or set of men which is consistent in any principle must necessarily seem slow and full of standpatism to a newspaper which frequently changes its political complexion over night, a newspaper whose editorial policy is controlled by a newspaper trust magnate who owns two democratic organs in Colorado, one bullmoose organ in Indianapolis which is "wet" one in Terre Haute which is "dry" and still another in Muncie which is against licensed saloons but in favor of mail order booze.

To the Indianapolis Star any party to be classed as up-to-date, must be able to change its principles every time the Big Chief has a new inspiration. Furthermore it should be equipped with lightening rods, bristling out in every direction like the quills on a porcupine's back to catch every little flash of popular sentiment that comes along. Anything less than this would be hopeless reaction.

Resolutions Condemn Democratic Extravagances and Mismanagement

We, the Republicans of Rush county, in convention assembled, look back with approval and satisfaction over sixty years of successful and glorious service which our party has rendered to the Nation. We renew our allegiance to the time tested and the time honored principle of republicanism. We endorse the doctrines of the party as set forth in the state platform and pledge ourselves to unwavering adherence to the principles of government that have proved beneficial to all our people.

Recognizing that American standards of citizenship can not be maintained, when American products are brought into ruinous competition with the output of countries of lower standards of living we remain unalterably for the American protective tariff for the benefit of the American farmer, laborer and manufacturer.

We are now, as we have always been, for the economic and wise administration of the affairs of state and nation, and we appeal to the voters of Rush county to rebuke the Democratic state administration, for its unparalleled extravagance, for its multiplicity of useless offices, for its lack of wisdom and foresight in the increase of public expense beyond the revenue so that it is now creating a debt of about one hundred thousand dollars a month.

We condemn the action of Finley H. Gray, Democratic congressman from this district in voting to put on the free list the products of the mills, farms and factories of our people, and in bringing our laboring men into unequal and unfair competition with the pauper labor of other countries.

We appeal to all voters, regardless of past party affiliations, to express their disapproval of Democratic extravagance and mismanagement and to return the control of government to the Republican party, whose policies have always brought general prosperity to our people.

LEAH FLINT WINS CONTEST

High School Senior Will Represent
Rushville at Meeting of League in Shelbyville, May 8.

PRELIMINARY HARD FOUGHT

Only One Point Separates the Winner, Miss Lucile Gray and Stacy Hinkle—Interest in Event.

Miss Leah Flint won the oratorical contest last night and will represent the Rushville high school at the contest of the Central Indiana High School league to be held in Shelbyville, May 8. Miss Flint was given a total of seven points by the judges and as this was the low mark she was declared the winner.

Miss Lucile Gray was awarded second place and Stacy Hinkle third by the judges. The other contestants finished in the following order: Orlando Simmes, Forest Webb, Alleine Budd and Marguerite Cartmel. The contest was very close and only one point separated Miss Flint and Miss Gray and Stacy Hinkle.

Miss Flint, the winner of the contest, spoke on "Toussaint L. Overture" and delivered the oration in a manner that reflected much credit to herself and the public speaking department of the high school. If Miss Flint does as well at Shelbyville as she did last night Rushville will win the contest. Miss Flint is a senior in the high school and will graduate this spring. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Flint.

The contest attracted the same attention and interest as in former years. A large crowd attended and the program was carried out in full. Miss Lucile Gray, who was given second place, took the speech, "The Genius of Patriotism," for her subject, and Stacy Hinkle spoke on "The Solving Principles of Federation."

The other speakers and their subjects were as follows: Orlando Simmes, "Gettysburg"; Forest Webb, "Gustavus Adolphus"; Alleine Budd, "The Wandering Jew"; Marguerite Cartmel, "The Social Revolution." The work of the contestants showed much careful preparation and the contest was so close that the audience was kept on edge until the announcement of the judges.

The local high school has always finished well towards the front in the state contest and the school has turned out some good speakers. A large crowd will accompany Miss Flint to Shelbyville on May 8, and expects to win the contest. Miss Flint has a good delivery and her oration is one that will place her in the list of winners, if she does as well as last night.

The judges in the contest were Prof. Galston of Butler College, the Rev. Frank Lenig of Connersville and H. G. Townsend, superintendent of the Greensburg schools.

Speeches at Basket Supper at First Presbyterian Church Last Night
Radiate With Optimism.

TRUSTEES RECEIVE CREDIT

Two hundred men, women and children sat down to an elaborate basket supper in the new basement of the First Presbyterian church last evening about six-thirty o'clock. The occasion was the celebration of the completion of the improvement. The church now has a modern kitchen and dining room which may be used for banquets and church suppers. It is well arranged, well lighted and decorated with good taste.

Optimistic speeches were made by Samuel L. Trabue, John F. Moses, B. O. Simpson, J. T. Arbuckle and Ben L. Smith. The trustees, Bert Mullin, Frank Reynolds and Mr. Simpson, who superintended the improvement, received their share of the praise, and Ben L. Smith thought much of the credit was due to the women of the church. They served the meal, and they were accorded an ovation for their work.

The Rev. J. B. Meacham presided at the short program after the dinner and called on the speakers. He had a story applicable for each one. They all radiated. The toastmaster said he had promised he would not call on three certain men, but he would like to hear from the board of trustees. Bert Mullin and Frank Reynolds "escaped" by leaving the building, but Mr. Simpson was induced to speak for the board, which had borne the brunt of the work. Wagoner's orchestra played.

INDIANA MEN READY FOR FRONT

Former Governor W. T. Durbin one of Many Who Offer Their Services in Event of War

IS VETERAN OF SPANISH WAR

Both Soldiers and Sailors are Anxious to go to Mexico—Offers to Organize Men

Washington, April 25.—Before leaving for Indiana former Governor Winfield T. Durbin, who stopped off here on his way home from a southern vacation, announced that he had offered his services to Governor Ralston of Indiana, in the event of war with Mexico. "I have served in two wars—the civil and the war with Spain," he said. "I am ready to take up arms again defending our country. If my services are accepted for the impending war with Mexico, I hope to gather together the One-hundred-and-sixty-first Indiana volunteer regiment and go to the front as its commander. It is as fine a body of men as I have ever known."

During the Spanish war Mr. Durbin was colonel of the One-hundred-and-sixty-first Indiana volunteers.

James May, of Anderson, a graduate of Culver military academy, called at the war department and volunteered his services for the imminent war with Mexico.

Walter Kessler, of Indianapolis, a graduate of Annapolis, and a veteran of the Spanish-American war, arrived here today. He called at the navy department and asked Secretary Daniels for a commission if his services were needed in Mexico.

Richard Walsh, 441 Oak street, Hammond, sent a telegram to the secretary of the navy today, asking that a commission be given him for service on the Atlantic fleet.

Members of the Indiana delegation in congress continue to receive many letters, telegrams and personal requests from constituents who are eager to offer their services in the event they are needed in a war with Mexico. James B. Curtis, an attorney of New York, who formerly lived in Indianapolis, sent word to Senator Shively today that he would be pleased to organize a mixed regiment of artillery in Indiana if the war department approved. He was captain of Battery A for fifteen years. Battery A saw foreign service during the Spanish-American war.

H. J. Eagleson, of Bloomington, sent a telegram to Vice-President Marshall, offering to organize a regiment of negro soldiers in the Second congressional district. Dr. Frank M. Foxworthy, of Indianapolis, a member of the medical reserve corps of the army and the medical corps of the Indiana national guard, with the rank of captain, wishes to be a major and brigade surgeon, if volunteer forces are needed. Dr. F. H. Ferguson of Bremen, telegraphed Representative Barnhart that he is ready to enlist as an army surgeon.

Indianapolis Merits Coming Here Expecting to Beat Rushville—Avery to Pitch.

GROUNDS IN FINE SHAPE

The Rushville team is all ready for the game tomorrow with the Indianapolis Merits and the fans are assured a fast game. The grounds are in fine shape and are very fast. Last Sunday the infield was a little rough but the kinks have all been taken out and the infield presents an altogether different appearance. Rushville will have to go some to beat the Merits. The Indianapolis team was city champions in 1912 and are said to be equally as good now. Chick Avery, who formerly wore an Arcadian uniform, will pitch for the Merits. Avery expects to beat his former team mates. Lefty James will start the game for Rushville and Russell, the new pitcher will be held in reserve. Both will probably pitch part of the game. The contest will start at two-thirty o'clock.

THE SOFT COLORS, RUFFLES AND FRILLS OF GRANDMOTHER'S DAY ARE BEING REVIVED

The most noticeable thing in the new summer frocks is the wonderfully harmonious blending of colors; the old-fashioned, faded-looking shades are being revived and also the figured materials, with creamy backgrounds and quaintly designed figures, in somewhat darker shades. Ruffles are another of the pleasing revivals; they appear on the small girl's frock and on that of her older sister, and are equally charming for both.

A pleasing dress for summer afternoons is shown in No. 8295; it is a young girl's frock with bodice and tunic of cream-colored, embroidered batiste over a foundation skirt of plain white voile. A raglan shoulder is shown, a V-shaped opening at the throat and a three-piece skirt. Batiste is priced according to the embroidery; a very good quality may be purchased for 75 cents a yard. Voile averages 65 cents a yard.

For a girl of eighteen, 5 1/2 yards are required for this design. Three circular frills form the skirt of the little dress illustrated in No. 8317 and a circular frill finishes the neck and sleeves. The design is made up in pale-pink linen with a line of white crocheted buttons down the front; a line of white stitching is used to finish the frills as well. For a child of eight, 3 yards of 36-inch material are needed for this dress.

ALL CLASSES IN HUERTA'S ARMY

Dictator Rapidly Militarizing Every Group of Men, in Every Walk of Life

POLICEMEN ARE THE SOLDIERS

Schoolboys are Even Forced to Organize and Drill—College Looks Like Barracks

(By U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Mexico City, April 25.—To be a schoolboy in Mexico these days means that to be a militiaman. Huerta is rapidly militarizing every group of men, in every walk of life, that he can lay his hands on.

Three months ago the national agricultural school, in the suburbs of the capital was a quiet, easy going institution with its thousands of students, gathered from the farms all over the land paying attention to nothing else than agriculture. Today it looks like a barracks. The professors have been converted into captains, majors and lieutenants and they wear military uniforms in the class rooms. The students have all been put into soldiers uniforms and have been supplied with rifles which they are forced to use to practice. Life in the dormitories has been put on a military basis and day and night the big school farm is patrolled by farmer boy sentinels.

The boys in the night schools, business colleges and even private schools are being drilled, by orders of the "president." Not a few of the professors in these schools have resigned.

ed their positions rather than become officers in the army. The professors who remain may often be seen in the boulevards of the capital, drilling under the instruction of a real army instructor, their boy students. Little chaps as tender in years as 10, may be seen in these groups learning how to carry their rifles and how to maneuver at the orders of a professor captain.

The law students have been formed into a brigade of their own. Two or three of the leading law instructors in Mexico have resigned their positions because they felt they had been humiliated by the demand that they become a part of the Mexican army.

The medical students—medical students are alike the world over—were too much for even Huerta. At a time when no one in the capital dared to raise his voice against Huerta these Medical students astounded the government and the populace by making a demonstration against the removal of the head of the national school by Huerta, and the substitution of a military head. This demonstration occurred on a visiting day when several members of Huerta's cabinet were present.

The police were called and the doors of the school were closed. Huerta, who usually knows what action to take against the slightest sign of opposition of his plans was puzzled in this case. He hesitated to order the execution of the ringleaders; for the same reason, he hesitated to cause their arrest on the grounds of treason. Finally, he solved the whole thing by closing the school for two months. Whereupon the irrepressible medical students held another demonstration of joy because "school was out." If President Wilson were to order all the clerks and secretaries in the postoffice department, for instance, be formed into a military company and were to be drilled, he would cause similar consternation to that which followed such an order by Huerta the other day. Huerta's order extended to every government office in the capital and every day on some of the many drill grounds around the capital some company of white-handed, tender-footed young clerks may be seen hiking or swinging guns in the hot sun.

It was some months ago that Huerta ordered that the 4,000 city policemen in the capital be outfitted with rifles, organized on a military basis and drilled daily. There is nothing in the world milder than a policeman in Mexico City, and the idea of being converted into soldiers did not appeal to them, especially as it didn't mean any increase in salaries. There was some talk of a strike and it was even said that, in retaliation, the police force had joined a plot against Huerta, but these projects died down and now, any day, companies of policemen, carrying rifles and ammunition belts and looking exactly like soldiers may be seen marching away to some suburban drill ground. All of these "soldiers" which Huerta has gained by militarizing the government departments the schools and police, have yielded him an increase of force of perhaps 5,000 fighting men in the capital. And the beauty of it is, they don't cost him anything. Aside from the expense for uniforms and rifles, for they received no army wage nor rations. In all these matters Huerta is profiting by the mistake of Madero. During the ten days of fighting in the capital before Madero was overthrown every policeman disappeared from the streets. There were 4,000 of them at the time, a greater number than the soldiers engaged on both sides, and whoever had been able to gather the policemen together and control them would have been able to hold the capital. Huerta doesn't intend that the policemen shall go in hiding, if he is forced to defend the City of Mexico.

Vocational Education.

Hanover College offers special provision the coming summer to teachers to equip themselves for teaching Agriculture and Domestic Science. The term opens June 22 and continues six weeks. The expense at Hanover are exceedingly moderate and the instruction of the highest quality. In addition to the above there will be regular "A" Class and "B" Class twelve weeks course for teachers, and work in all regular college departments.

Superstitious Nature of Mexican Shown by Passion Play Incident

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Mexico City, April 25.—Three Mexicans were hanging upon crosses, tied with ropes, in a small interior town, at Easter time, two years ago. It was the annual passion play of the village and the citizens were gathered around the crosses, lamenting over the dying Christ, who was personified by the man on the middle cross and cursing, in real round oaths the two thieves who were hung on either side.

The Mexicans, in the story of the two thieves, do not understand the moral of Christ offering redemption to the outcast pair at the last moment; instead, they believe that the thieves were placed beside Christ to make his death the more ignominious. And so, in all village passion plays, the thieves come in for a vast amount of execration.

In this particular instance the crowd, in its hatred of the thieves, got into a white-heat revival heat against the thieves and one Mexican, a little drunker than the rest, suddenly shouted:

"Rateror, rateros," meaning "thieves, thieves," and dashed out from the crowd with a stick which he jabbed into the ribs of the innocent actor on the cross.

"Let me alone," shouted the tied-up actor. "I am only acting. I am Juan Lopez and you know me well." His voice could not be heard above the clamor. The excited crowd only cheered on the man with the stick who gave the actor another thrust. The other thief began to shout for the police and the actor impersonating Christ joined in the declaration of the now-injured "thief" that they were only acting.

After another thrust or two the "thief" fainted and when the crowd saw that he really had been injured they quieted down enough so that the voice of the actor impersonating the Christ could be heard.

"Fools!" he shouted. "You have killed him. Let me down. I will not be the Christ any longer."

He was untied and the first thing he did when he got to the ground was to give a sound beating to the man with the stick. In the meantime the unconscious actor was taken down from the cross and removed to the village doctor's office. Two weeks in bed was the penalty he paid for his realistic acting.

There hasn't been an Easter passion play in this village for the past two years, for the simple reason that no one is willing to take the part of the thief.

The childishness of the Mexican Indian—and there are 12,000,000 of him in Mexico, as against 4,000,000 real Mexicans—is illustrated at Easter time, by the manner in which he understands the Easter story.

His whole idea is not to mourn the death of Christ so much as to express his hatred of the men who brought it about. Good Friday, which in other lands is a day of mourning, is given over, by the Mexican, to showing his hatred of Judas.

Many thousands of tissue paper figures of Judas are sold in the cities and villages. These effigies are "lynched" in a village street, with great shouting and jeers. Then, for hours afterwards, men and boys throw sticks and stones at the effigies until they are torn to bits.

In the camps of all the soldiers Friday and Saturday before Easter, whether the soldiers were rebels or federals, it is safe to say that fighting was forgotten for a space of time, in order to give the Mexican an opportunity to give vent to hatred of Judas Iscariot.

HIS LACK OF WORK CAUSES SUICIDE

Funeral of William Floyd, Formerly of This City, Who Killed Self at Muncie, Held Today.

HE TAKES CARBOLIC ACID

The funeral services of William Floyd, age 62, a plasterer who formerly lived here and who committed suicide at Muncie Thursday afternoon, was held this afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence. Concerning his death the Muncie Press says:

Floyd is survived by a widow, Elizabeth Floyd, one son Chase Floyd of Piqua, O., and one daughter, Mrs. Grace McKinney of Rushville, Ind. Lack of work is thought to be the cause for Floyd's rash act.

Mrs. Elizabeth Floyd found the body of her husband, Thursday noon, when she returned to her home. A bottle had contained several ounces of carbolie acid, was lying beside his body. Floyd had been dead one hour when his body was found. Coroner Fred L. Bunch conducted an inquest.

Relatives state that Floyd had been out of work for several weeks and that they had noticed him being despondent several days ago. It was declared that he had never threatened suicide. He left his home early Thursday morning and searched the city for employment. It is thought that he purchased the acid while enroute to his home.

FINE CHECKS AND DARK PLAIDS FAVORED FOR TAILORED SUITS

Almost extinct is the old-fashioned, strictly tailored suit; it has been replaced by one showing easier lines; this may be suitably worn accompanied by one of the sheer lace blouses that have become such general favorites for the past season or two, for an afternoon tea or a bridge party. The over-yeung shepherd checks in black and white are being combined with plain cloth or serge in these suits and at a recent showing of French models quite a number of colored checks were noticed. It is a pleasing fact to pipe the lines with a bright green or scarlet; this introduces just enough contrast for conservative dressers and renders the dress or suit more becoming.

The suit shown in No. 7955-7420 has a coat of black cloth with skirt of black and white check; revers and vest are also of the check. Black bone buttons are used to trim and close the coat. This coat (7955) may be made in size 36, with 3 1/4 yards of 42-inch material; the skirt (7420) requires 3 1/4 yards of the same width.

A figured silk crêpe is used in the other gown, 8127-8148; it is two shades of blue with trimming bands and sash of plain blue satin. A chemisette of net and black velvet buttons complete the frock. To copy this dress in size 36 the blouse (8127) requires 2 1/4 yards of 36-inch material and the skirt (8148) 4 yards of the same width.

No. 7955—sizes 34 to 42.

No. 7420—sizes 22 to 32.

No. 8127—sizes 34 to 42.

No. 8148—sizes 22 to 30.

Each pattern is 15 cents.

AMERICANS ARE HOSTAGES

surrendered the weapons without resistance. Then began the trip for Vera Cruz, during which the hearts of every one in the diplomatic party were to be touched by the appeals of countrymen for aid. At the towns of Orizaba, Cordova and Jalapa, Americans were crowded about the stations. They pleaded with the American charge to be taken aboard his train. O'Shaughnessy was helpless. These stranded Americans had been taken from trains bound for Vera Cruz.

At Cordova an American wearing a British flag sneaked to the side of the train and handed a note to one of the consulate employees. This note reads:

"Blisser, Erford, Whitecomb and a good many other Americans are being held in jail here. They were taken off a train and are being held as hostages in case Americans attack the town. They want to know if you can help."

At Tejeria, the last station before reaching the American lines, O'Shaughnessy saw several Americans who had been taken off trains. They pleaded piteously to be carried the remaining thirty miles to safety. They told O'Shaughnessy they had been on a refuge train which left Mexico City Thursday morning. Some of the party had been sent clear back to the capital. Their train had passed O'Shaughnessy during the night. When O'Shaughnessy left the capital, Huerta had ordered that no more Americans should be permitted to depart or enter this city. This order prevents unprotected Americans in the small towns from seeking what little refuge they may be in the capital. It also makes it impossible for every small town to hold the American civilians as hostages.

Huerta ordered that the homes of all Americans be searched for arms and Thursday night the American residents of all hotels were stripped of arms. The protectorate established by Sir Lionel Carden, the British ambassador was unavailing in this matter as the vindictive dictator was determined Americans should have no means of defense in case of an uprising against them, which he will accept as a demonstration of sympathy and support for him.

The newspapers of the capital have issued the wildest extras. One advised the "chopping up of the dogs."

On a railroad embankment running through a tropic swamp and with the skyline marked by cocoanut trees, the transfer of the O'Shaughnessy party from the Huerta train to the American lines was made last night. A mile of upturn track separated the American train from the Mexican.

Captain H. P. Huse, carrying a flag of truce proceeded across the open space alone. As he approached the Mexicans, he waved his white flag, as well as a Mexican flag which he carried.

BRING REFUGEES IN FROM MEXICO

Dozen Ships Plowing Way Through Gulf Today With 3,057 Foreigners Fleeing From War Scenes.

GALVESTON LANDING PLACE

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 25.—On a dozen ships in the Gulf today, with crews turned toward Galveston, are 3,057 foreign refugees from Mexico, many of them destitute. The vanguard of 329 was due to arrive today. About 1,300 more will leave Mexican ports for Galveston in a week.

Resources of the navy, army and Red Cross were massed, preparing for the fugitives. The refuge question is most difficult now, cabled Admiral Badger from Vera Cruz. From Tampico 1,054 refugees have been sent to Galveston. Those arriving today were from Tampico and have waited many days on the British and American warships for passage back to the states.

Galveston is to be made the landing point for all refugees from the coast of Mexico. Receiving camps and hospitals will be provided by the government, food and clothing supplied and free transportation to their home cities.

HEARS ROUSING SPEECHES AND NOMINATES TICKET

ana has the Democratic party been dominated by boss rule as it is today, and as a one-man boss at that. Since March 4, 1913, one Democratic governor has been impeached and here in Indiana, one mayor is on trial for corrupt practices in politics."

According to the speaker, the year 1913 under Democratic rule, was the third worst year for business in the last 33 years and the first quarter of 1914 was even worse than the previous year. He urged that the spirit of patriotism exert itself and that the Republicans and Progressives get together and fight the common enemy, the Democrats.

"After five years of Democratic joy-riding, the machine needs overhauling and the Republican party is the one to do the work."

Judge R. L. Head of Brookville was next introduced to the convention. Mr. Head was the Sixth district member of the resolutions committee at the state convention. He told several funny stories and then the convention got down to the work of nominating the ticket.

The first was the call for the nominations for judge of the sixty-fifth judicial district. The name of Judge Will M. Sparks was presented by Rushville township and the nomination was made by acclamation. Judge Sparks made a brief talk, thanking the convention.

Judge Sparks stated that he desired the support of all, that if elected he would fill the office fair and impartially. "The office is greater than I, and if elected, as I expect to be, I will treat all alike."

Albert C. Stevens of Rushville was then nominated for prosecutor. There was no opposition and it was made by acclamation.

W. R. Jinnett was then placed in nomination for representative by Walker township. He was nominated by acclamation. "You have seen fit to confer on me for the second time the nomination for representative and I hope you will not regret it," said Mr. Jinnett.

John O. Williams of Noble township was then nominated for county treasurer, there being no opposition. Mr. Williams was given a great reception as he came forward. He expressed confidence in being elected.

The names of J. K. Jameson and Henry Clevenger were placed in nomination by Rushville township for sheriff. This was the only contest of the convention and created a stir in expectation of a fight. Jameson was nominated on the first ballot, receiving 187½ votes as to 86½ for Clevenger.

Bulletin.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 25.—The British embassy today received reports confirmatory of the story which American officials at Vera Cruz had heard that Huerta was preventing Americans from leaving Mexico City, under the impression that the Americans were stopping Mexicans from leaving Vera Cruz.

Every effort is being made by this government to correct this impression and the men who went out to O'Shaughnessy's train last night carried with them the word that Mexicans were free to go as they pleased but that there were no facilities for transportation.

RUMORED THEY MAYBE EXECUTED

ernment was asked to verify the report of the arrests and make all necessary representations for the safety of the Americans.

That the refugees "may be executed" was the rumor reported by Consul Canada. No further word was received regarding their disposition today. All foreigners employed on the railroad in the territory controlled by Huerta have been summarily discharged, Bryan stated, and fears are felt for the safety of other such employees in Mexico City.

Secretary Bryan said Canada's dispatch stated that he was "reliably informed" of the arrests of the Americans and the Briton, although he was careful to add it was only a report. Canada said the refugees, according to reports, might be threatened with execution and that it was understood they had been sent to Orizaba.

The consul was urged by the state department today to make every effort to confirm the reports and to take all steps necessary to protect Americans and foreigners.

Relatives of those said to have been detained were advised of the report made by Canada in private dispatches sent by Bryan.
